Journal Entry – Week 4

I started my week with Congressional Hispanic Caucus Institute (CHCI) Training. The experience is always great but due to internet connection issues, we had to end the session earlier than usual.

Tuesday-----

On Tuesday, I went into the office a little later than usual and parking was an issue as I experienced last week. The walk from my car to the office was short, however, the weather is extremely hot! As early as 9am, you can already feel the heatwave in Salinas, CA. The day at the office was productive. I had the opportunity to assist others with different tasks.

Thursday-----

On Thursday, I had the opportunity to fly to Ontario after finishing my duties at the office. With the weeks passing by, I needed this flight to get a little get away weekend. My flight got delayed but I eventually made it safe. Even though I got to Ontario very late, I still woke up very early to get ready on Friday and have all my set up ready for CHCI. CHCI usually is only hosted on Monday's and Wednesday's but this week we had the opportunity to be part of CHCI Interns & AJC Goldenman Fellows Session. The session was incredibly informative, and we had the opportunity to meet a lot of people and learn from different programs.
